Making Clarkston a great place to grow up...

To Whom It May Concern,

Are you going to organize an activity for the Clarkston community (either for kids or families) during their Spring Break? If yes, read below!

One of the initiatives of the Clarkston Coalition for Youth is Spring Break-Clarkston Style. A printed guide will be created that will be given out to parents and posted on community websites, all for FREE. This guide will help our families that are in the Clarkston area on Spring Break connect with things to do, special offers, one time events and ongoing classes, explorations and adventures.

As you know, Spring Break is an annual week off from school and for some, this week has become an excuse for some young people to experiment with drugs and alcohol. The Clarkston Coalition for Youth spearheaded this initiative in 2012 to help our youth make better choices by encouraging businesses to offer healthy, supervised and affordable activities to them during the week of Spring Break.

We are at the beginning stages of this initiative and are reaching out to local businesses, restaurants and organizations, such as yourself, that might be providing activities and discounts the week of Spring Break. This year, Spring Break begins Friday, April 1 through Sunday, April 10, 2016.

Enclosed is sponsorship information, as well as a form to complete if you are going to offer an activity, discount or coupon for Spring Break. We are also asking for you to help promote this important initiative. The form is also downloadable online at www.clarkston.org.

If you have any questions, please email Tonya Cunningham at info@clarkstonyouth.org.

Sincerely,

Tonya Cunningham
Community Organizer
Clarkston Coalition for Youth

Are you offering an activity, discount or coupon?

Complete the form below to share information on what activities and opportunities your business will offer during Spring Break. There are also other ways for your business to support this initiative-read more below.

Spring Break Clarkston Style is an initiative to provide alternative activities for our youth. A printed Spring Break Guide will be created that will be given out to parents and posted on community websites. This FREE Guide will help our families that are in the Clarkston area on Spring Break connect with things to do, special offers, one time events and ongoing classes, explorations and adventures.

There is no cost for information to be included in the Guide, but the Committee is asking for a $25 donation, if possible, to help with the associated costs of the initiative.*

Sponsorship Form

Spring Break Clarkston Style is being created this year to provide alternative activities for those who are not traveling. As you are aware, Spring Break is an annual week off from school and for some, this week has become an excuse for some young people to experiment with drugs and alcohol. We want to help our youth in making some better choices by making sure there are healthy, local, affordable alternatives. A printed guide will be created that will be given out to parents and posted on community web-sites. This guide will help our families that are in the Clarkston area on Spring Break connect with things to do, special offers, one time events and ongoing classes, explorations and adventures.
